[Qualitative information on progress in reaching earnings (consolidated)]

Through the first three quarters (April 2006 to December 2006), the Japanese economy gradually recovered, supported by various factors including an improvement in corporate earnings and an increase in capital investments. However, the business environment remained unstable for various reasons, including higher prices for petroleum-related products as a result of a sustained rise in oil prices.

In the food product industry, the business environment continued to be severe with the slow recovery in consumption as deflation persisted and with efforts on various fronts including responding to more diversified consumer needs and absorbing increase in energy costs.

Under these conditions, as the leading natural seasoning company, the ARIAKE JAPAN and the Group worked to expand existing businesses and aggressively develop new ones with the goal of steadily implementing its New Five-year Long-term Management Plan. At the same, the Company (ARIAKE JAPAN Co., Ltd.) is creating a meticulous system of "quality, health, and safety management," focusing as much as possible on "food safety" and "a stable supply of high-quality products," and working as a unified force to improve profitability in order to realize stable growth even in a deflationary environment. Earnings through the first three quarters were as strong as initially expected.

Through the first three quarters, net sales for the Company fell slightly compared to the same period last year, to 15,194 million yen, because of a fall in demand in the processed food sector, prepared food sector, and instant noodle sector as a result of unseasonable weather since fall. However, consolidated net sales rose 3.5% year on year, to 17,229 million yen, with sales at consolidate subsidiaries, particularly those in China and the U.S., dramatically increasing and sales for the Taiwanese subsidiary and the Japanese subsidiary, Dear. SOUP, also growing.

Ordinary income for the Company declined 4.3% year on year as a result of several factors including an increase in energy costs and the recording of around 70 million yen in expenses for items such as an increase in the number of employees and the opening of two offices overseas in order to strength the Company's sales and technical capabilities. Consolidated ordinary income shrank 4.0% year on year, with the ratio of ordinary income to net sales falling to 25.3% from 25.5% for the first half even though consolidated subsidiaries were able to steadily increase income by aggressively expanding sales.

In addition, consolidated net income totaled 2,633 million yen as a result of the growth in ordinary income discussed above; furthermore, the net income to net sales ratio was 15.3%, the same as for the first half.

(2) Consolidated financial position

Third Quarter of FY2006	1,590	(3,802)	125	17,674
[Reference] FY2006	4,195	(3,670)	(29)	20,335

[Qualitative information on changes in financial position (consolidated)]

Total assets at the end of the third quarter of the fiscal year increased 2,753 million yen as a result of an increase in fixed assets due to aggressive capital investments both in Japan and overseas.

Cash flows from operating activities were the result of an increase in profits from healthy business. For cash flows from investing activities, the net outflow grew mainly because of acquisition of fixed assets. In addition, for cash flows from financing activities, payments of dividends and acquisition of treasury stock mainly led to a net outflow.

Therefore, the balance of cash and cash equivalents at the end of the third quarter under review declined 8,312 million yen compared to the end of the previous fiscal year.

Consolidated results forecasts for the year ending March 31, 2007 (April 1, 2006- March 31, 2007)

	Net sales	Operating income	Ordinary income	Net income
	MY	MY	MY	MY
Full-year	23,500	5,570	5,370	3,150

Reference: Expected net income per share (full-year) ¥96.70

[Quantitative information on earnings forecast (consolidated)]

While corporate earnings and the economy will likely continue to improve throughout the rest of the year, the price of petroleum-related products will probably remain high due to elevated oil prices, and private consumption trends are unlikely to improve.

The food product industry is working to strongly appeal to people's desire for "food safety" and "healthy foods" and to stimulate demand; however, the business environment will likely remain extremely severe with deflationary pressure persisting and competition becoming fiercer.

Under these severe conditions, the Company is actively implementing its business strategy and as a unified force moving forward with efforts to reduce costs. The Company expects to meet its targets for the full fiscal year, which include 23,500 million yen in consolidated net sales and 5,370 million yen in consolidated ordinary income.

* Since forecasts described above have been made based on information available as of the date of announcement, actual results may be different from these forecasts due to various factors.
